Living a Restored Life in God’s Transforming Love

A misguided search for love and acceptance led Maureen into a world of drugs and life in a motorcycle gang. A victim in a violent gang war, she suffered two gunshot wounds from an M16 rifle. Within those few seconds, the crippling bullets forever changed her life. The pain and suffering from that act of violence was the beginning of a long journey of recovery. Alone in a hospital room, she was consumed with shame, anger and fear. In Maureen’s determination to start a new life, she encountered the hope and healing of God’s transforming love.

I have witnessed a miracle. The miracle has been seeing God transform Maureen Hager from a tragic victim into an instrument of hope and love. Her story reads like something from an action movie, except the bullets and the pain were very real.
